CRIMINAL DEFENSE INVESTIGATORS TRAINING ACADEMY SEEKING THE TRUTH IN SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

On May 18, 2017, thirty professional investigators from private and public sectors, representing nine different states, expanding across the United States will collectively work together to solve a mock crime at the DoubleTree Hotel in downtown South Bend, IN.

The Indiana Society of Professional Investigators (INspi), an elite state association, is hosting the Criminal Defense Investigation Training Council lead by Brandon Perron. The conference, May 16-18, 2017, will teach the attendees how to properly analyze and solve a criminal case. This training program is typically hosted twice a year, usually on the East and West Coast, and for the first time ever, INspi President, Brandy Lord and Vice President, George Gergis, both of Granger, IN are bringing this unique program to the Midwest.

The first two days are intense and information-packed, teaching the investigators how to properly conduct witness and defendant interviews, crime scene investigations, impeachment investigations, and much more. They will touch base on attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine, report writing, case review and analysis. As professional investigators, it is their job to be impartial and objective to the facts, advocating the truth to help defend the 6th amendment that guarantees everyone the right to a fair trial. This course was created to teach investigators how to do this in their daily case load.

On the third day, a mock crime will take place at the DoubleTree Hotel in downtown South Bend that will require the investigators attending the course to analyze and dissect the alleged 'stabbing' that occurred. It is all about preparation, planning, and thinking that will train the investigators to take on real-life cases and work them to the best of their ability after completion of the course.

If you are a professional investigator or are working in a public defender's office and are interested in this fantastic course, there is still room!
